CIMCO

When plant space is at a premium, a CIMCO Pre-assembled Refrigeration Plant (PRP) is a convenient, cost effective alternative. These complete, self-contained units operate with maximum efficiency, meeting the demands of even the most rigorous application. Installed wherever you need cooling, PRPs can be used for a variety of applications in industries such as Food and Beverage, Industrial Process Cooling and Ice Rinks.

Applications include:

- Fluid Cooling Systems
- Spiral Freezers
- Holding Coolers and Freezers
- Refrigerated Production Areas
- Ice Machines

Great for plant expansion or provisional manufacturing, every Pre-assembled Refrigeration Plant is custom designed by our highly experienced engineers to meet the specific application requirements. PRPs include all pumps, compressors, filters, control valves, sensors and main electrical panels assembled onto a rugged platform, which can be enclosed in an all-weather housing.

Benefits include:

- choice of any refrigerant, including ammonia
- enclosures built to machinery room or Class T engine room requirements
- complete "ready-to-go" operation: lighting, heating, electrical and ventilation
- high quality factory assembly
- quick, convenient hook-up with minimal on-site piping
- prompt delivery
- choice of placement – on roof, on stands or slab-on-grade - wherever cooling is required
- easily relocated
- available in water-cooled, evaporative-cooled or air-cooled models

An important aspect of any CIMCO system is our experience in preparation, installation, start-up and system balancing. You can rely on us for high performance equipment and the professional expertise to keep it running at peak efficiency.
